2014 Alphonse Mellot - Sancerre, La Moussiere 130
– Loire Valley, France

2015 Francois Cotat - Sancerre, Caillottes 150
– Loire Valley, France

This is problably one of the most elegant and textural expression of Sauvignon Blanc. It is far from the pungent passion-fruity, cat's piss, gooseberry, grassy wine. Francois is the last one to pick his grapes, making full and plush wines. I truly revere his art of making wine. If it wasn't for him, I wouldn't be drinking Sauvignon Blanc.

Pinot Gris/Grigio

2015	Greystone Pinot Gris – North Canterbury, New Zealand	59
2015	BK Wines – Ovum Pinot Gris – Adelaide Hills	65

In true style of Alsation Pinot Gris, this is a mouth filling textural wine. It starts with very aromatic on the nose and delivers equal richness on the palate. Silk and satin.

2011	Domaine Schlumberger – Les Princes Abbes Pinot Gris – Alsace France	70
2015	Yabby Lake – Pinot Gris – Mornington Peninsula, VIC	72
2015	Peter Zemmer – Pinot Grigio – Alto Adige, Italy	70

A typical Grigio, all you want in your glass; freshness, verve, fruit and crispness. You can find out the difference between Pinot Gris and Pinot Grigio if you compare this Grigio with the Seltz Mittelbergheim.

2013	Albert Seltz – Mittelbergheim Pinot Gris – Alsace, France	75
2008	Albert Seltz – Zotzenberg Pinot Gris – Alsace, France	110

Other Whites & Blends

2012	Poggio Anima – Grillo – Sicily, Italy	46
2014	Alpha Box & Dice – Golden Mullet Fury Viognier Semillon – McLaren Vale, SA	60
2014	Dupasquier – Jacquere – Savoie, France	60
2015	Ochota Barrels – Gewurztraminer – Adelaide Hills, SA	65
2014	Vanguardist Wines – HVB Semillon – Hunter Valley, NSW	70

This Semillon is a very approachable, grassy white with some Alpine freshness, lemon sherbet but also quite a bit of flesh and curves. It isn't restrained like a lot of young Semillons. I recommend a decant and 14 degrees serving temperature.

2014	Ulithorne – Corsus Vermentinu – Corsica, France	70
2014	Graci – Etna Bianco (Carricante, Catarratto) – Sicily, Italy	75

This is a blend of 2 native grapes; Carricante and Catarratto. This is a pristine and focused little white, with elemtents of crushed stones and crunchy orchard fruits. If you like Chablis, you will like this.

2011	Muhr Van Niepoort – Prellenkirchen Gruner Veltliner – Carnuntum, Austria	85
2012	Pazos de Lusco – Albarino – Rias Baixas, Spain	90
2015	Vietti – Roero Arneis – Piedmont, Italy	95

2014	Ciro Picariello – Fiano di Avellino – Campania, Italy	95
2014	Ciro Picariello – Greco di Tufo – Campania, Italy	95

The name Tufo refers to the town near Avellino, not to the soils where the vines are planted which are sandly clay of volcanic origin, called Tuff. They say that chunks of pure sulphur can sometimes be found in the vineyards. It is an interesting wine, with lots of poignant minerality balanced by a nice texture brought by some batonnage and 8 months on lees.

2014	Les Cretes – Petite Arvine – Valle d'Aosta, Italy	99
2012	Buronfosse – Entres Deux Savagnins – Jura, France	99
2014	Nikolaihof – Hefeabzug Gruner Veltlner – Wachau, Austria	115
2013	Antoine Arena – Patrimonio Carca Vermentinu – Corsica, France	120
2014	Cos – Pithos Bianco (Grecanico) – Sicily, Italy	120
2014	Girolamo Russo – Etna Bianco – Sicily, Italy	120
2010	Sadie Family – Palladius – Swartland, South Africa	280

Eben Sadie is one of the orginals of minimum intervention winemaking in South Africa. In 2010, Platter's South African Wine Guide, the wine "bible" of South Africa, pronounced Sadie Family Wines as Winery Of The Year. Palladius is a beautiful blend of Chenin Blanc, Grenache Blanc, Roussanne, Viognier, Semillon, Chardonnay and Clairette. There is something called 'drinking window' in a wine, and this applies to this 200%. This is drinking superbly well right now. It is the Montrachet of South Africa.

2013	Honeymoon Vineyard – Pinot Noir Extra – Adelaide Hills, SA	90

Jane and Hilton are lovely locals who started their Honeymoon project in 2005 in the beautiful town of Echunga. They also happen to be ambassadors of Champagne with really impressive knowledge of the intricacies of the region. They use Dijon clones for their Pinot, some whole-bunch and wild ferments; the resulting wines are quite rich and expressive, have structure but remain feminine.

2015	Ochota Barrels – I am the Owl Syrah – Adelaide Hills, SA	75
2010	Clare Wine & Co – Pyrite Shiraz – Clare Valley, SA	75

2004	Cullen – Diana Madeline Cabernet Merlot – Margaret River, WA	215
2010	Yarra Yerring Carrodus Cabernet Merlot – Yarra Valley, VIC	225

After a visit in the Yarra, I could not find anyone in the region who does a better Cabernet than Yarra Yering. From vines planted in 1969, this wine is unfined and unfiltered and matured in new French oak for 21 months. It has ample spice, its silky tannins wrap around the palate beautifully and it delivers a harmonious and long persisitent finish. A wine that I can easily drink on its own.

Nebbiolo

2013	Adelina – Nebbiolo – Adelaide Hills, SA	70

Of the few Australian winemakers working with Italian varietals, I think Col McBryde makes a great example of new world Nebb. This Nebbiolo is perfect for those who want to learn how to drink a Barolo, it is more accessible but still has some rhubarb acidity, crispness and offers endless perfume; it's like taking a walk in a rose garden.

2015	Tonic Wines – Nebbiolo – Adelaide Hills, SA	85
2013	Vietti – Langhe Nebbiolo Perbacco – Piedmont, Italy	95
2012	G.B. Burlotto – Barolo – Piedmont, Italy	150

2011	Marengo – Barolo Brunate – Piedmont, Italy	195

2012	Sobrero – Barolo Ciabot Tanasio – Piedmont, Italy	200

This Barolo is very seductive and approchable now if served after an hour's decant. You will be stunned by the aromas in your glass. The fruits come from three vineyards in Castiglione Falletto; Pernanno, Valentino, and Piantà. It is a classically made Nebbiolo that is aged for 24 months in oak botti. Totally sexy!

2012	Sottimano – Barbaresco Fausoni – Piedmont, Italy	215
2008	Sottimano – Babaresco Cotta – Piedmont, Italy	225

2004	Guiseppe Cortese – Rabaja Barbaresco Riserva – Piedmont, Italy	350
2001	Guiseppe Cortese – Rabaja Barbaresco Riserva – Piedmont, Italy	375

The Rabaja vineyard(10 acre) is regarded as one of the best vineyards in Langhe and this Riserva is a very small batch production made with patience and dedication, aged 30 months(instead of 18) in Slavonian and French oak. The nose offers dark blackberries, sweet plum, with a whiff of Mediterranean herbs, leather, smoke and tobacco. It needs some time in the decanter before it can be absolutely riveting.

Gamay

2010 Roland Pignard – Regnie 50
– Beaujolais, France

2014 Jean Marc Burgaud – Beaujolais Villages, Les Vignes de Thulon – Beaujolais, France 55

You could not find a more table friendly gamay. This bright young thing shows tart cherries, freshly picked raspberries that is pure glou-glou.

2014 Kevin Descombes – Beaujolais Cuvee Keke 68
– Beaujolais, France

2014 Jean Marc Burgaud – Morgon, Cote du Py 90
– Beaujolais, France

2012 BK Wines – Les Deux Fous Gamay 75
– Burgundy, France

This wine is made frm 90yr old gamay vines planted in the granite soils of the Hautes Cotes de Beaune and is a collaboration between Brendon Keys of BK Wines(Adelaide Hills) and Andrew Nielson of Le Grappin (Burgundy). The wine was fermented in concrete tanks and left on skins for 26 days before being shipped back in 1000L flex tank. This wine exudes all the things we love about gamay: bright, vivid, red cherries with some minerality and spice.

2015 Sorrenberg – Gamay 90
– Beechworth, VIC

This is, by far, the best Australian Gamay that I have come across. This 2015 is quite tight, so I suggest a decant, which will provide the mouthfilling silkiness bound to seduce you. Fleshy, polished and full of joy. From Barry and Jan Morey whose specialties are Gamay and Chardonnay.

2013 Laurent Martray – Cote de Brouilly 90
– Beaujolais, Franc

Other Reds

2016	Fikkers – Pinot Meunier – Yarra Valley, VIC	62
2011	Terraviva – Lui Montepulciano d'Abruzzo – Abruzzo, Italy	70
2011	Valenciso – Laderas de Cabama Tempranillo – Rioja, Spain	78

Naturally fermented, vinified in concrete vats and aged in low toast French oak for 12 months, this vibrant tempranillo is a juicy expression of an early accessible Rioja with delicate oak, a bit of licorice, ripe red fruits and supported by fine slippery tannins.

2013	Antonio Caggiano – Tauri Aglianico – Campania, Italy	75

2013	Umathum – Zweigelt – Burgenland, Austria	79
2015	COS – Frappato – Sicily, Italy	80
2011	Sobrero – Babera d'Alba La Pichetera – Piedmont, Italy	85
2014	Girolamo Russo – Etna Rosso 'a Rina – Sicily, Italy	90
2011	Antonelli – Contrario Sagrantino – Umbria, Italy	95
2013	Santadi – Rocca Rubia Carignano del Sulcis – Sardinia, Italy	99
2012	Sottimano – Barbera d'Alba Pairolero – Piedmont, Italy	99

This expression of Barbera is quite jammy and inky. This is a really fruit forward wine with a touch of graphite, some rose petal and a bit of new oak. Recommended to those who like sweeter fruit and density on the palate.

2011	Argiano – Brunello di Montalcino – Tuscany, Italy	150
2011	Goyo Garcia – Finca El Peruco Tempranillo – Ribera del Duero, Italy	160
2012	Catena Zapata – Historic Rows Malbec – Mendoza, Argentina	178
2006	Quintarelli – Amarone della Valpolicella – Veneto, Italy	800

This has to be one of the biggest styles of red made in the world that also carries equally exquisite elegance. From native grapes, dried for weeks and pressed until it becomes a dry red, this wine is made with a lot of patience, care and effort. This is the epitome of excellence showing the true savoir-faire of the master artisan.

2001	Francoise Bedel – Comme Autrefois – Crouttes-Sur-Marne, vallee de la Marne	270

This biodynamic grower champagne has one of the finest bubbles I have ever tasted. It's been on lies for 10 years, the nose expresses dried orchard fruits and the palate shows great depth and intensity with an unctuous creamy texture and a bit of spice.

2011	Cedric Bouchard – Ursules Blanc de Noirs – Celles-Sur-Ource, Aube	295
NV	Egly Ouriet – Grand Cru Extra Brut V.P. – Ambonnay, Montagne de Reims	325

V.P. stands for 'Vieillissement Prolonge'(prolonged ageing), as the wine stays 70 months on lies before disgorgment.This cuvee consists of 60% 2003 vintage with 40% reserve wine. It's plentiful, vinous, expansive and extremely engaging.

2008	Cedric Bouchard – Cote de Bechalin Blanc de Noirs – Celles-Sur-Ource, Aube	400

Like other contemporary avant-gardiste growers, Bouchard is all about minimalistic approach. All his cuvees are expressions of a single vintage, single vineyard and a single grape. These Champagnes are densly packed, due to low yields, they are rich and ripe, with mouthfilling intensity. I often refer to his wines as white Burgundy with bubbles.

2006	Agrapart – Venus Brut Nature Blanc de Blancs Grand Cru – Avize, Cote des Blancs	425

A bit of Funk

2015 The Other Right – Sunshine on my Skin Viognier 55
– Adelaide Hills, SA

Alex Schulkin, who lives and makes wine in the Basket Range, offers a range of interesting wines, from Pet Nat to skin contact. He makes 'untamed wines, fermented with courage', and this skin contact viognier resonates aromas of ginger and white grapefruit on the nose with delicious spiciness on the palate.

2014 Ruggabellus – Sallio (white blend) 58
– Barossa, SA

Abel Gibson has a new approach on wines from the 'rugged beauty' of the Barossa. Sallio is a skin contact explosive blend of 60% Riesling, 32% Semillon and 8% Muscat. White wines with tannins and structure, wines with grace and intrigue.

2014 Cidrerie du Vulcain – Transparente (semi dry) Cider 70
– Switzerland

This cuvee is a semi-dry cider with perfect balance between refreshing acidity, fruitiness and minerality.

2013 Fond Cypres – Le Blanc des Garennes 70
– Languedoc, France

This is a blend of Grenache Blanc, Viognier and Roussanne. 100% vin nature, with the grapes picked at the same time, with different levels of maturity. Unfined, unfiltered, it exudes aromas of exotic fruits with a rich texture on the palate.

2014 Cidrerie du Vulcain – Premiers Emois (sweet) Cider 80

– Switzerland

I have decided to add a vintage cider here because this tastes like apple champagne. The Premier Emois is the sweeter out of the three ciders listed here. Made entirely from apples picked from old orchards, it is fermented naturally. It tastes pure, is refreshing and too easy to drink.

2014 Cidrerie du Vulcain – Trois Pepins (dry) Cider 90

– Switzerland

This cuvee is a dry cider, meant to drink like a grower champagne, served in large wine glasses with no ice. A medley of quince, apple and pear.

2014 Ruggabellus – Solumodo(white blend) 95

– Barossa, SA

This skin contact blend is 72% Semillon, 21% Riesling and 7% muscat. A beautiful, atypical wine, lush, textured and with great persistence.

2008 Brash Higgins – Bloom Chardonnay 99

– McLaren Vale, SA

A Chardonnay that Brad Hickey left hanging in barrels under flor, for 8 years, until he decided he would do something with it. And as it turns out, it is an oxidative wine with amazing acidity that gives it integrity. Salty, briny, sea-spray, washed rind cheddar, nutty and a little bit peaty. A delicious Jura style, and great value.

2007 Buronfosse – L'Attente (Vin Jaune) 195

– Jura, France

Vin Jaune is a white wine from the Jura Region that has been left deliberately in barrels for 6 years and 3 months to oxidise under flor to develop the typical nutty and orange rind and sea spray characters that makes it a perfect pair with cheese like Comte. It comes in a 62cl bottle called a Clavelin and the grape variety is Savagnin. Interesting oenological composition. Not for the uninitiated.
