Terre à Terre is a family owned wine estate, growing and making still and sparkling wines in two cool climate regions in South Australia: the Piccadilly Valley in the Adelaide Hills and Wrattenbully on the Limestone Coast.

Xavier Bizot and Lucy Croser both grew up surrounded by passionate winemaking families. In 2005 they launched their boutique wine import business, Terroir Selections. Together they unearthed small, terroir-led, family wine domaines from Europe for importation to Australia. Inspired by the wines they discovered, they purchased a special piece of land in Wrattenbully, South Australia and planted their first vineyard.

From the beginning, the vision for Terre à Terre has been to grow the very best quality grapes, from the same vineyard sites every year, and then vinify them using French and Australian wine practices.

In addition to Terre à Terre, the couple also grow and make traditional method sparkling wine under the name DAOSA (Dedicated Artisans of South Australia) from their sparkling Chardonnay and Pinot Noir vineyards in the Piccadilly Valley, Adelaide Hills.

 2016 Domaine Comte Abbatucci 'Gris Imperial' Rosé Corsica, France		80

Wine from Corsica?! Where even is that?! It's a tiny island in the Mediterranean, classified as one of the 18 regions of France. It once had bountiful vines, all native and unique, then they got wiped out through neglect and abandonment. Almost. Vigneron Jean-Charles Abbatucci brought back Corsica's indigenous grape varieties back from the brink of extinction. The Domaine Comte Abbatucci Collection wines all come from a single parcel planted by Antoine Abbatucci in the early 1960's. At the time, Antoine (Jean-Charles's father) was president of the Chamber of Agriculture in Corsica, and noticed that the subsistence farming lifestyle of the mountain villages was rapidly disappearing as the villagers left the countryside for the coastal towns. Several villages farmed old vines of indigenous varietals that were left abandoned as the population left. To save these varietals from extinction, Abbatucci took cuttings of each threatened vineyard he came across and planted the cuttings on his estate near Ajaccio, in a single plot of granite soil. By 1962, eighteen different varieties had been planted. Thanks Jean-Charles Abbatucci! Thanks to you now we can all enjoy this bright, delicate, perfumed rosé made entirely from 90% Sciaccarellu and 10% Barbarossa. I'm so grape-ful.

"Such a great drink" - Gary Walsh, 95 pts - couldn't have said it better myself Mount Mary are one of the country's most celebrated and collectable family-owned estates, but this wine is made for enjoying now. This is a limited run of younger vine Cabernet Franc from the great Mount Mary vineyard made by one of my winemaking heroes, Sam Middleton. Blackcurrant, raspberry fruit core balanced by black olive and earth, beautifully balanced, medium-bodied, buoyant, fresh, complex with dusty tannin.

COCKTAILS

Crafers 78° Gin Martini 20

Who doesn't like a properly stirred (yes, stirred) Martini? Our gin Martini is crafted using the award winning 78° Small Batch Gin from of local Adelaide Hills Distillery. Now was it 46 or 48 stirs that make a great martini.

Adelaide Hills Negroni 20

Who doesn't love a Negroni? The perfect balance between gin, vermouth and amaro. We believe in celebrating our local community and the producers around us. This drink highlights the delicious spirits that are being produced by our friends at Adelaide Hills Distillery.

Pinot Spritz 16

A fun drink, it's hard to just stop at one. A crisp Pinot noir based cocktail served on ice, this drink will refresh and delight.

Hellfire Equinox 20

A Cocktail to celebrate the Spring equinox, made with elderflower liquor, orange bitters, and Hellfire vodka. This is a simple yet complex cocktail symbolising the change of seasons, tasting floral, bitter and dry. A refreshing drink for those warm Spring afternoons.
